A LITTLE VISITATION

Dear Friends,

Summertime is gently gliding toward a smooth but unwelcome landing. Unwelcome because it has been a pretty good summer around here and I am not ready for it to end. Sure, there have been some hard circumstances, Jim Lynch's rather abrupt death and huge funeral comes immediately to mind, but all in all, the last two months have been peaceful and progressive. Mary Kallman and team have done a super job of getting the Kindergarten altogether moved across the street. She has hired some very promising new people for the school. The building is shining up nicely. I had a little meeting with the school faculty in which they impressed me with their eagerness to get on with the new academic year. In all my years of school, I am sure I never looked forward to a single day of it like many of our teachers anticipate this imminent term. Our enrollment is even looking a bit better than I feared it would be. Over on the Main Street side, the staff laughs together and thoroughly respects each other. That is not a given thing. The facilities are in good shape, and get better every day, thanks to our new diligent and dependable custodial crew. We can pay our bills, finally hear our liturgy, and work with some assurance of emotional stability. So times ain't all bad, I am happy to say.

This summer has afforded me a chance to get back into the Communion call business in a serious way. Taking Holy Communion to the homebound is a very worthy function of a parish apostolate and at Visitation it is mostly done by our faithful, loving volunteers. We would be severely hobbled without their devoted labors. But this summer I have found time to frequently get out there myself and visit with many of our homebound through more regular Communion calls and I have greatly enjoyed it. We have a mostly unheralded resource in our elderly. As I sit visiting with them I have very often wished I could somehow haul them into the pulpit on Sunday morning so the wider community could hear them muse on the lessons they have culled from what the Apostle calls, "running the race and fighting the good fight." I fear my interlocutors might not appreciate me using their names, so I will not, but there are things they say that I hope I can remember for they are so worth holding onto.

One couple tells me stories of raising their big family here and how the happenstance rhythms of loving children led them into an unexpected season of chicken-raising and encountering strangers in their home and even in their bedroom of a night. They speak of these things, and so much more, with an amazing magnanimity. They somehow learned to just roll with the punches. Whatever life brought them, they met it with faith. Another couple is suddenly afflicted with health problems that threaten their lives and tear at the tender cohesion of their multi-generational household. They face their grim circumstances with a breath-taking courage. Still another older gentleman deeply sobs over the illness of his spouse. Surrounded by a wealth that most of us cannot even imagine in our most far-flung fantasies, he says, "I have worked hard all my life and have all this money. And, Father, now that I have it, I have discovered it means nothing." Let me tell you, as a person who came up with very little, I find this man's words a true challenge. Sitting in his home and listening to his testimony, which is obviously genuine, it is not only heart-rending, it is mesmerizing and thought-provoking. Oh God, what a high privilege it is to visit the aged and infirm! It is like going to school all over again. Sirach says, "An attentive ear is a wise person's delight." All of the people I have visited this gentle summer have posed complex and fascinating lessons for me. I wish I could roll every one of them into the sanctuary to share them with you. I hope to keep up my Communion calls regimen although I know it will be very hard to do when the pastoral fires are turned up again on that old Visitation parochial stove.

I can almost hear those bagpipers filling the bladders of their instruments, getting ready to pipe the new school year into session tomorrow morning (18 August). The west parking lot will be congested with children, some of them in emotional turmoil, saying good-bye to mom and dad as if they were marching off to war instead of a day's schooling. Poor kids. I wish I could take their frightened agonies away. I often wonder if that is not how God looks at all of us. Remember our Lord says, "Fear is useless, what is needed is trust." There will be scads of picture-taking and memory-making out there too. You know, people who are not part of a place like this really miss so much. As the black-draped observer of these things, I see it so plainly. This is a powerful place. So much happens here from the kindergarten door, to the wealthy man's penthouse, and the disheveled sickbed by the way. Let those who have eyes see widely, for the spectacle of Visitation is rich, rare, and redolent with many a lesson to peruse, by many a fireside, through many a silent night.

In Our Holy Communion - Monsignor Bradley S. Offutt

SOCIAL CONCERNS

REFUGEE ASSISTANCE - HELP NEEDED

The Visitation Refugee Assistance Committee (VRAC) is working with Della Lamb Community Services to prepare to welcome a family of new Kansas City neighbors. The new project is called “House to Home.”

The process will begin with the collection of household items. Della Lamb will then match the Visitation community with a family relocating to our city and give us the location of their new home. VRAC will clean the home, move and organize our gifts there and finally meet the family and provide a welcoming meal.

Thank you to those who have contributed household items already. Monetary donations are also most welcome and will be used to purchase any remaining items for the family. To make financial donations, please go to our parish website, <https://www.visitation.org/>: Click the online giving button, under the Offertory and Contributions section, enter the amount of your donation as Other. Please make a note that it is for refugee assistance.

We are also asking for volunteers to help as movers, cleaners, organizers and food helpers for the family’s first meal. If you are interested in helping in any way or if you have any questions, please reach out to Julie Morrard at jgmorrard@yahoo.com, 913-558-8825 or contact Karen Miller at karen@church.visitation.org. Thank you!

“For I was a stranger and you welcomed me.” Matthew 25:35

SISTER PARISH

This year’s 8th annual Ride For Madre cycling event welcomes all riders to join us for an afternoon of cycling fun on the new Rock Island Trail in Raytown. Departing from Crane Brewery on Friday, September 16, there will be two ride options: 10 miles departing at 2:00 pm and 20+ miles departing around 12:00 noon. Social hour will commence after the ride completes around 3:00 pm.

This event has made a tremendous difference over the years in the lives of literally hundreds of people in our sister parish in El Salvador.

Donations to this year’s Ride For Madre can be made to Visitation Church, (put Ride For Madre in comments of check) or at our Go Fund Me Page: <https://www.gofundme.com/f/ride-for-madre-2022?qid=c50368e48e9d73a6c2497333159c1a2e>.

BAPTISM

Baptism Preparation for New Parents

Visitation offers a Baptism Preparation class for new parents six times a year. The next class will be Saturday, September 17 from 9:00 – 11:00 am in the Church. We will prayerfully walk through the Rite of Baptism and learn about its ancient and rich sacramental symbols.

- New parents are required to complete Baptism preparation prior to their child’s baptism.
- All are welcome! Parents who want a “refresher,” or godparents wishing to deepen their understanding of Baptism, are encouraged to attend the class.
- To learn more, contact Teresa Albright at 816-753-5155 or teresa@church.visitation.org.

RACIAL JUSTICE

A small group of parishioners will complete an eight-week course, Faith and Racial Justice Changing Systems and Structures on August 22. The work has focused on reading The New Jim Crow (Michelle Alexander). However, every eight-week session includes the opportunity to invite a guest speaker as well as visit a church or social agency to be “immersed” with a group committed to racial justice. In late July, Sr. Rose McLarney, CSJ spoke to the group about her work at Journey to New Life. Journey to a New Life Home Page - Journey to New Life, Inc.

On August 8, the group’s immersion experience took them to the Center for Conflict Resolution <https://www.ccrkc.org/>. Located at 62nd and Paseo, the Center works in the areas of mediation and restorative justice in the community, in schools and in re-entry programs. To that last point, CCR opened a Transition Center in the West Bottoms in 2021 for men coming out of prison. The work of the Center is varied, but in all the focus is to empower people to resolve, manage and transform conflictual situations.

Before the immersion experience, Just Faith asks participants to reflect on the Gospel story of the disciples on the road to Emmaus (Luke 24:13-35). Just so, the CCR staff’s passion for justice, commitment to peace and respect for all people left our Vis Just Faith group with a clear sense of the presence of the Lord in our midst.

CONTINUING CONVERSATIONS ABOUT RACISM AND OUR FAITH

SAVE THE DATE - Thursday, September 22, will be the next “Continuing the Conversation about Racism and Our Faith.” This is an ongoing collaboration organized by parishioners of St. Monica’s Catholic Church and Visitation Catholic Community. All are welcome!
